

Legislature to Get $20 Million Bond Proposal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislature was expected to get another bond issue proposal today — a $20 million item for "standby" authority for the state highway commission.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus mentioned such a proposal in his inaugural address, and Faubus legislative aide William J. Smith said it would be introduced today probably in the Senate.

The measure would provide the state with emergency funds should the federal government release highway money which the state could not otherwise match.

Also likely to be introduced this week is a bill to guarantee equal school board representation to school districts which consolidate. The measure is being prepared by Sen. Clarence S. Bell of Parkin, himself a school administrator.

Under it, each of the districts which merge would hold equal representation on the consolidated board.

Still another proposal expected to hit the hopper soon would prevent truckers from shifting excess loads from the weight-carrying axels of their vehicles to avoid penalties for overloading.

Highway Director F. R. Oliver said the bill probably would be sponsored by the Arkansas Bus & Truck Association.

A battle is expected over bills to give cities a higher percentage of state road revenues which the Arkansas Municipal League may sponsor in both chambers this week.

The extra money would come from funds now used for state highways, and the Highway Department is expected to offer vigorous opposition. The governor has said he will go along with the department in its attempts to keep cities and counties from getting more of its funds.

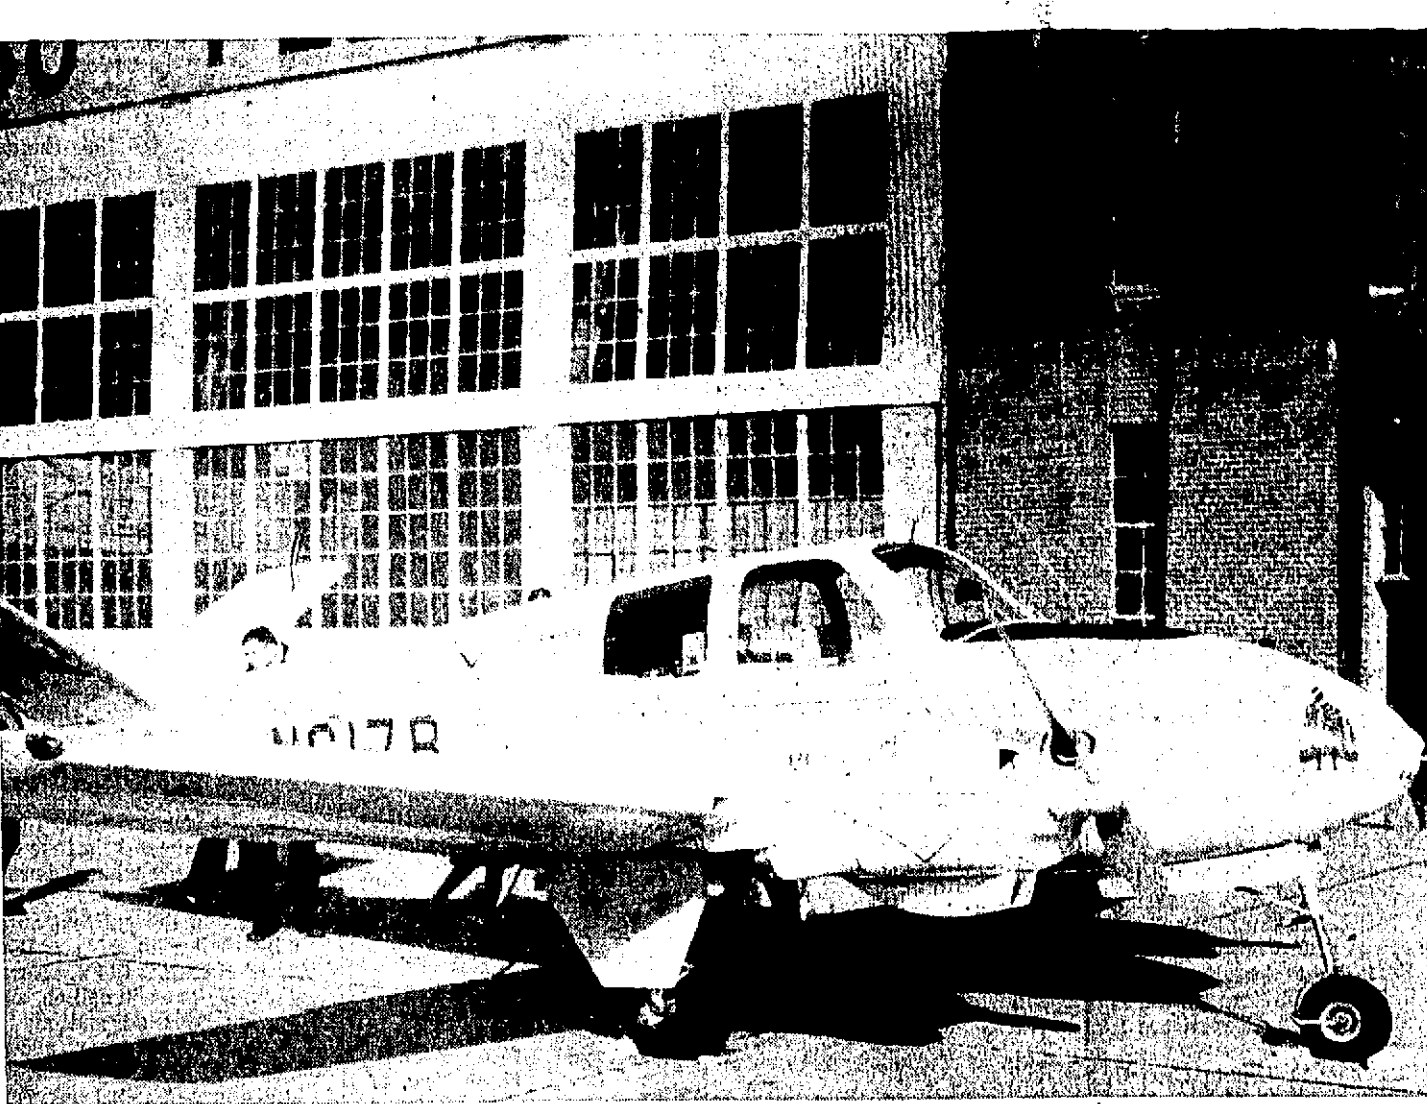

Bills to create a single board of finance for the state's institutions of higher learning are due for public hearings tomorrow night. The measures — by Pulaski Rep. H. Coltrane and Little River Rep. Marion Crank — have drawn protest from the presidents of the University of Arkansas and the seven state-supported colleges.

A plan for a $52 million construction bond issue for the colleges, the State Hospital and the Arkansas Children's Colony — along with a soft drink tax to finance it — is scheduled for a public hearing Jan. 31.

This bond issue — like the one for the "standby" highway measure — would have to be approved by the voters.

At least one legislator — Saline Rep. Virgil Fletcher — has said he doesn't think this is the right time to ask the people for a tax increase. He predicted last week that no new taxes will be imposed during this session of the legislature.

'Round-the-World Plane Is Sunday Visitor

THE SUPER-V TWIN-ENGINE BONANZA PLANE THAT flew around the world this past fall visited Hope Sunday and was greeted by a large crowd as it touched down on the municipal airport at 3 p. m. Scheduled to arrive around 2 p. m., it was delayed by headwinds on a non-stop flight from Pinua, Ohio.

Drastic Food Shortage in Red China Is Bringing New Drive Against Communist Regime

By ALAN CLINE

TOKYO (AP) — An announcement from Peking indicates unrest and sabotage brought on by a drastic shortage of food is bringing new drives against opponents of the Red regime.

A voluminous communique issued after a meeting Jan. 14-16 of the top Chinese command in Peking referred again and again to the food shortage, which was blamed on the "most severe natural calamities in a century following upon serious natural calamities of 1959."

The Communists reported last month that 150 million acres were hit by these calamities. No figures were listed in the latest report, but it left no doubt about the seriousness of the problem.

The official New China News Agency reported a four-day cold wave in Kwangtung Province, South China, destroyed part of the winter crop, especially sweet potatoes, a staple food of the toiling masses.

The Peking communique said, the agricultural setback led to a shortage of raw materials for light industry. The leaders ordered that new sources of material along with increased production be achieved to "ensure the supply of the people's daily necessities as far as possible."

"The tasks in 1961 are extraordinary," the communique said.

Warns Public to Know Man Dealing With

Sheriff Jimmie Griffin and Prosecuting Attorney's office again urges all citizens to be careful about employing persons to do termite treatment, to treat trees and shrubs and to clean septic tanks etc. Persons who are authorized to do termite treatment and pest control work are licensed by the State Plant Board and should be required to show their license.

Anyone dealing with strangers should make a careful investigation and take down their vehicle license number. Beware of anyone claiming to represent the State Board of Health in cleaning septic tanks. The State Board of Health does not authorize any persons to represent them in doing this work.

Forged checks are on the increase. Be sure you know the person who cash a check for you. Be careful about buying insurance from strangers, particularly if they say they represent the Welfare Dept., the VA, Blue Cross Blue Shield or can help you with your social security. Remember a legitimate representative does not object to having his credentials checked and these organizations do not have persons going from house to house selling anything.

Several Auto Wrecks Are Investigated

A series of accidents were investigated in this area over the weekend, nobody was seriously hurt but charges were filed in all of them.

Saturday afternoon on Highway 20 south, an auto driven by James Wingfield, Negro, went out of control, ran through a fence and turned over three times in a pasture. Willie Lee Griner, passenger escaped injury. Versie Lee Johnson and Louise Hill, Negroes, were treated at a local hospital and released. State Policeman Travis Ward charged Wingfield with driving while intoxicated.

Clinton Lee was charged with running a stop sign following a wreck on 4th and Washington, involving another car driven by Mrs. Don Hall. Officers Milam and Fullerton reported the Hall auto was heavily damaged.

Also Saturday on South Shover, vehicles driven by Sylvester Davis and Hugie Lee collided with heavy damage resulting to both. Officers Milam and Fullerton charged Davis with hazardous driving.

At Main and Third Saturday an auto driven by Jerry Pate of Hope collided with another driven by Mrs. E. F. Fagan of Peoria, Ill., with small damage resulting. Officers charged Pate with hazardous driving.

Albert Rhodes, Negro lost control of his car on Highway 4, Saturday inside the city limits. The vehicle traveled about 250 feet before overturning on the left side of the highway. The car was heavily damaged. Officers Rowe and Clark charged Rhodes with reckless driving.

Harbor Strike Has Ended in New York City

NEW YORK (AP) — A two-week-old harbor strike that had caused a paralyzing railroad tie-up throughout much of the East was ended today by tentative agreement on a new work pact.

Mediators, including President Kennedy's new secretary of labor, Arthur J. Goldberg, met in a marathon 14-hour session that ended with the announcement of a settlement at 6:18 a.m.

The strike of railroad tug and ferry boat workers against 11 railroads that operate in New York harbor had crippled the city's commuter transportation, forcing 100,000 persons to look for other means of getting to and from work.

The walkout of the 664 workers in three marine unions on Jan. 10 had also virtually shut down the New York Central and the New Haven railroads.

Both sides said they hoped to get back into operation by Tuesday morning.

The unions have called a ratification meeting for later in the day at the Seafarers International Union headquarters in Brooklyn.

Both sides were expected to okay the pact.

Both Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, who had invited Goldberg to attend the sessions, praised the new labor secretary for his contribution to the settlement.

Goldberg flew to New York less than 24 hours after he had been sworn into Kennedy's Cabinet.

The pact to the settlement was an agreement to postpone the tough issue of job security. The unions had asked to have present five-man tug crews remain frozen. But operators wanted any new contract to state that management had the right to decide the number of men needed.

Both sides finally agreed to defer any decision until next December when a White House study on railroad-managing problems is completed.

The striking marine unions, besides the Seafarers, where Marine Engineers Beneficial Association and the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots. After Seafarer pickets showed up at the big union terminal in Cleveland, Ohio, Sunday, the Central—the nation's second largest—practically shut down its Western division. Its Eastern division had been hit last week.

The idle train crews were not directly involved in the dispute, but they refused to cross marine picket lines.

Stevenson Goes to UN Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson hands his credentials to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld today, beginning his new job as chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations.

Stevenson arrived in New York Sunday night. He is expected to make his debut in the Security Council later this week in debate on the Congo.

Fires that struck in various parts of the nation over the weekend took the lives of more than 40 persons, including at least 17 children.

In Pasadena, Md., flames broke out in a frame house early today and seven young children and an adult caring for them were killed.

The dead were Donald J. Green, 9 months; his sisters and brothers, Maryland, 2; Winifred, 3; Yvette, 4; Joelling, 5; Aaron, 6; a cousin, Regina Wright, 10, and an uncle Bernard Green, 33.

Parents of the Green children, Negroes, were visiting neighbors when the blaze broke out shortly after midnight in the community halfway between Annapolis and Baltimore.

In New York early Sunday, a mother and six of her nine children died when a fire swept through their tenement apartment in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn.

The victims were Anna Fincher, 36, and Charles, 4; Howard, 9; Josephine, 7; Nancy, 3; Florence, 2, and Helen, 1.

Police theorized that Charles might have started the blaze in playing with matches. He was spunked a month ago by his father for playing with them.

The explosion of an oil stove was blamed for a fire Saturday that killed two persons in Marlboro N.Y. Judy Boykin Whitted, 19, and her sister, Anna P. Boykin, 14, died in the blaze that destroyed their two-story house.

Another fire in New York was believed to have killed Adda L. Wright, 72, a hotel clerk, when flames wrecked the headquarters of the famed Chautauque institution in Chautauque.

In Clermont, Fla., four children of Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses Harris died in a fire after a kerosene heater exploded in their home Saturday night while the parents were away on a visit in nearby Orlando.

Dead were Lewis, 7; Grace, 5; Sharon Ann, 3, and Ulysses Jr., 1. A fifth child, Betty, 12, ran to a neighbor's house seeking help and was unhurt.

In Halifax, Mass., a mother of five, Mrs. Robert Cleverly, was aroused from sleep early today by smoke and a crackling fire. She hurriedly dressed the five youngsters, ranging in age from 7 months to 12 years and led them though smoke cold to safety in a neighbors home.

In the community of Bernard near Marshall, N.C., Williams Evans, 58, and Ralph Cogdill, 34, died in one of three houses swept by a blaze Sunday.

Pel Harris, 60, died in another fire that destroyed a one-room home near Gascon, N.C., in Northampton County.

An elderly retired couple, Herman Badenhoff, 70, and his wife, Elizabeth, 68, died early today in a blaze at their home in East Patchogue, N.Y.

Fire Aboard a U. S. Carrier Leaves 4 Dead

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A fire at sea aboard the U.S. aircraft carrier Saratoga today claimed the lives of four officers and three enlisted men.

One person was seriously injured and 22 were under treatment for minor burns and smoke inhalation as the big carrier put into nearby Phaleron Bay.

The fire occurred in the engine room area shortly after midnight while the Saratoga was on patrol with the U.S. 6th Fleet in the der construction at Brooklyn Navy Yard. It did not say what caused the fire.

Vice Adm. George Anderson, 6th Fleet commander, has ordered a court of inquiry.

It was the second fire aboard a Forrestal class carrier in just over a month; the other one broke out aboard the Constellation, under construction at Brooklyn Navy Yard. The fire Dec. 19 cost 50 lives.

A Navy spokesman at Naples attributed the Saratoga fire to a broken oil pipeline and said the flames were brought under control after a two-hour fight.

The U.S. Embassy here promised a statement later. The American naval attaché said he was awaiting a report from the Saratoga.

The Saratoga, which will be 4 years old in April, normally carries about 3,800 officers and men. She is one of the Navy's Forrestal class, the world's largest aircraft carriers.

The vessel is 1,016 feet long with an angled flight deck and a width of 252 feet. With a full load, she weighs 78,000 tons. The Saratoga was launched Oct. 8, 1955, and completed April 14, 1956. The cost is listed by Jane's Fighting Ships, authoritative naval reference work, as $182 million.

Confirmation of Nominees Is Asked

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders hope to win confirmation today for 13 of President Kennedy's nominees for positions below Cabinet level. At least two nominees face some opposition. The Cabinet was sworn in Saturday afternoon a short time after it won Senate approval. Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., served notice he was opposed to the selection of John B. Connally Jr. of Texas as the new secretary of the Navy because of his past ties with the oil industry. Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., has announced he is against approval of Chester Bowles as undersecretary of state. Bowles, a former member of the House, was a foreign policy adviser to Kennedy during the campaign. Cotton questions Bowles' attitude toward future relations with Red China, although the nominee has testified he opposes immediate recognition of the Communist Chinese regime or its admission to the United Nations. Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., put senators on notice he hoped to complete confirmation today on all of the Kennedy nominees who have been approved by committees. The Senate voted Saturday to confirm Adlai E. Stevenson as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. He took his oath with the Cabinet members during a White House ceremony. The only opposition to the Cabinet was that of Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., to the nomination of the President's brother, Robert F. Kennedy, to be attorney general. Allott said Kennedy did not have enough legal experience for the post. Morse's opposition to Connally, longtime associate of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, came after the Senate Armed Services Committee had approved of him and eight other Defense Department appointments. Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and John S. Cooper, R-Ky., told the Senate they shared Morse's view on the Connally nomination. Morse said others also are opposed. Other nominations ready for Senate consideration include: Byron R. White, deputy attorney general; Archibald Cox, solicitor general; H. W. Brawley, deputy postmaster general; Roswell L. Gilpatric, deputy secretary of defense; Elvis J. Stahr Jr., secretary of the Army; Eugene M. Zuckert, secretary of the Air Force; Charles J. Hitch, Paul H. Nitze, Arthur J. Sylvester and Thomas D. Morris, assistant secretaries of defense; Cyrus R. Vance, general counsel of the Defense Department.

'Notty', the Porpoise Is Troublesome

By RALPH DIGHTON

CHINA LAKE, Calif. (AP) — That porpoise the Navy started training a year ago has turned out to be unpredictable and talkative, is expected to swim at speeds of 30 to 40 knots and talking is the best trick she's learned so far. Expected to swim at speeds of 30 to 40 knots — and thus show scientists how to build faster submarines — she still hasn't gone faster than 16. Scientists hope to overcome her aversion to speed by giving her more room, perhaps an inlet fenced off with antisuicide netting. Her speed runs so far have been made in a narrow, 315-foot-long tank. Her ability to talk delights Navy scientists. They're building complicated electronic gear in the hopes that, by duplicating her sounds, they can actually hold conversations. The porpoise, called Notty after the initials of the Naval Ordnance Test Station here, has learned another trick. She can count out her age, which is four. She does this by nudging a lever in her private pool. Her trainer, psychologist Ron Turner, says there's no chance that this is just luck. She's been trained to push another lever when she's through counting. Notty's talking to human ears sounds like a cat in anguish. She also makes noises humans can't hear. Dr. Rene Engel, head of oceanic research at NOTS, has caught these noises on tape and now is working on a generator to duplicate them. "Our first step," says Engel, "will be to determine what sounds Notty reacts to. Then we will observe what she does after each type of sound. If we can learn to give orders, maybe she can learn to talk back." This seven-foot, 200-pound porpoise—she probably will grow to twice this size—also has been taught to wear a collar. Unless she's smarter than scientists think she is, Notty doesn't know that his collar could be built to contain explosives which could be detonated whenever she approaches an enemy vessel. The collar also could house submarine-detection instruments, but why bother? If she can be taught to talk and count, the day may come when deep-diving Notty will swim alongside an American picket boat and yell: "Hey, skipper, I just spotted four enemy subs off Kodiak Island at 100 fathoms."

Bank Cashier, President Are in Jail

SHELDON, Iowa (AP)—Two of Sheldon's leading citizens—a bank cashier and the president of its biggest industry—were in the same jail today, accused of participating in a $2-million bank embezzlement. Federal agents arrested Harold Eugene Kistner Jr., 35 Saturday night at his home. He was taken to Woodbury County jail in Sioux City, where Burnice Geiger, 58, has been held for a week. She has admitted the embezzlement that closed the bank, police said. Mrs. Geiger was assistant cashier and a member of the board of the Sheldon National Bank. Kistner, charged with aiding and abetting Mrs. Geiger in draining sizable sums from the bank, was the former president of the Northern Biochemical Corp. Mrs. Geiger, the principal stockholder in Biochemical, owned more than a third of the firm's shares. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president, was scheduled to speak to Biochemical employees today in a meeting open to townspeople. Roosevelt is economic adviser to the firm, which mixes and sells animal feeds. The company closed its plant Sunday for the first time since last April. It had been operating on a six-hour, four-shift basis, seven days a week. No reason for the shutdown was given. Operations began again at midnight with the full shift returning to duty. Mrs. Geiger was visited Sunday by her husband Wallace, a Sheldon merchant, for the first time since she was jailed last Monday. He announced two Sioux City attorneys had been employed to represent her. Authorities said Kistner was accused of helping Mrs. Geiger drain large sums of money from the bank. They said he wrote checks without having the money on deposit and Mrs. Geiger apparently accepted the checks but did not charge the amounts to Northern Biochemical's accounts. Kistner was fired as president of the company by the board of directors last Friday after numerous criticisms by Roosevelt of the firm's financial system, and after it was revealed that Kistner had been convicted of the illegal sale of securities in Nebraska several years ago.

Says Tax Would Ruin Businesses

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A bottling company official has said the proposed Arkansas soft drink tax would force 25 per cent of the state's small bottlers out of business. Richard Petrie of Dallas, Tex., vice president of the Southern Division of the Pepsi Cola Bottling Co., told the Arkansas Pepsi Cola convention here yesterday that a similar tax in West Virginia forced 50 per cent of that state's bottlers out of business. The convention closed without taking action on the proposed bill, but several speakers voiced

Man Hit by Train at Prescott Dies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A rash of fires, including one in which four Negro children perished, claimed 10 lives in Arkansas last week, almost half of the total of 22 violent deaths.

Eight persons died in traffic accidents during the week ended at midnight Sunday. One drowned, one was killed in a tractor accident, and one died in a ditch cave-in.

John McWilliams, 58, of Prescott, died Saturday night of injuries received Jan. 12 when the truck in which he was riding was struck by a Missouri Pacific train at a Prescott crossing.

The four Negro children died Saturday when flames destroyed their four-room frame home at Aurelle, about 30 miles southeast of El Dorado. The children of Mr. and Mrs. George Lee Lovette, they were Brenda Joy, 4; Gloria Jean, 3; George Irvin, 19 months and Vanessa Diane, 6 months.

Coroner Dr. John H. Pinson speculated that the fire started when one of the children poured kerosene on embers in a wood-burning fireplace. Their father was at work and their mother had gone to a neighbors house.

G. Britt Swan, 73, of Hamburg, brother-in-law of Rep. W. F. Norrell, D-Ark., was injured fatally Saturday night when his car hit a bridge abutment after colliding with another car.

Mrs. Swan, 71, sister to the congressman, was critically injured and hospitalized in Monroe, La. None of the four persons in the other car was injured. The wreck occurred six miles southwest of Hamburg on U. S. Highway 82.

W. A. Walls, 87, a retired farmer, was killed Sunday in a fire that destroyed his home in the White Hall Community near Harrisburg. Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Willie McCullum, 40, Negro of Helena died Sunday from injuries received Saturday night when his car collided with one driven by Mose Medley, 65, Negro of Helena, about one-half mile south of Helena on Highway 20. Three Negroes were injured and six escaped injury.

Charles A. Brown, 23, of Little Rock, was killed and five other persons were injured Saturday night when the car in which they were riding overturned in a ditch after hitting an embankment west of Little Rock.

Brown's 19-year-old wife, Martha, was one of the injured. All five were hospitalized but they were not thought to be critically hurt.

Otis Prior Gould, 52, of Batesville, died Friday night in a Jonesboro hospital of burns and injuries he suffered in an auto accident Jan. 14. Dewey R. James, 27, of Cave City, was killed in the wreck.

amended to move Conway County from the northwest district to the north central district, but efforts to switch Arkansas Jefferson, Lincoln from the northeast district to the south district were defeated.

Congressional redistricting became necessary when Arkansas lost two seats in the United States House as a result of a population decline. The new districting arrangement will be in effect for the 1962 elections.

The plan puts incumbent Rep. E. C. Gathings in the 1st district. Reps. Wilbur Mills and Dale Alford share the 2nd district. Rep. J. W. Trimble is alone in the 3rd district, while Reps. Oren Harris and W. F. Norrell are together in the 4th district.

All six congressmen have indicated they plan to seek re-election in 1962.

Husband a Doubting Thomas
Despite Wife's Protestations

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I've been married 15 years and always trusted my wife until one night I came home from work unexpectedly. Our children were in bed and my wife was keeping company with a married man. Several times since I've found her with this same man. She claims she's brought no disgrace upon our marriage but I've been all over the world and know women fairly well.

My wife may think she's snow-balling me but I can't stand the sight of her any more. How would you feel? What would you do?—Desperate.

Dear Desperate: When you say you know women fairly well you suggest that you have been interested in other women just as she has been interested in other men. If this is true, "Judge not, lest ye be judged."

Give your wife the benefit of the doubt and, for your children's sake, bring all your questions and fears into the open by talking this whole unpleasant business out with her.

Dear Helen:

My husband and I were married a year ago last August and

Has Praise for Inaugural Address

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus today praised President Kennedy's inaugural speech.

"I thought it was one of the best inaugural speeches I have ever heard," Faubus said.

The governor said he had heard inaugural speeches since Herbert Hoover in 1929.

"Kennedy is not as good a speaker as we have had, but his speech was concise and to the point," Faubus said.

The governor said he felt the speech would raise the public's estimate of Kennedy.

The governor tossed out the remarks on Kennedy at the end of a quiet news conference at which he discussed briefly a proposed soft-drink tax measure but declined to take a stand on it.

Faubus also declined to state his position on legislative measures to create a super board of finance for institutions of higher learning. Faubus discussed these bills with presidents of the institutions last Friday.

The college presidents indicated they would oppose the bills, on which a public hearing is scheduled Tuesday night.

Faubus denied reports that there has been a rift between him and the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission.

In his inaugural speech, Faubus proposed that the state's authority to buy bonds from local industrial development corporations and its authority to invest funds in the privately-backed First Arkansas Development Finance Corp. should be revoked.

"Some members of the AIDC don't agree with my position on these matters, but there is no basic disagreement between me and the AIDC."

Faubus said the AIDC is like any other state agency. "They want all the money they can get to run their agency," Faubus said. "I have to decide how far each one can go."

"If there were plenty of state money perhaps we would not need to revoke this authority. But we're talking now about borrowing money for some state needs, such as educational construction and highways, and it would not do to turn around then and lend state money for the needs of private industry."

Faubus said a bill setting up machinery for a stand-by bond issue for the highway department would be introduced in the Legislature today.

He said the measure would authorize issuance of $10 million in bonds each year for two years. The bonds would not be issued unless the Highway Department finds itself unable to match available federal money.

Teachers Go Back to Work in Missouri

REEDS SPRING, Mo. (AP) — School reopened today in Reeds Spring. The town's 19 teachers have decided that no immediate change can be made in court processes.

The teachers walked out Thursday in protest over lack of court action against Ralph Arnold, 54, construction worker accused of clouting high school teacher Emory Dalan with a 10-inch wrench Oct. 15.

Dalan had whipped Arnold's son, Mickey, 15.

The teachers reached their decision Sunday after a public meeting of 130 persons in the high school gymnasium at this southwestern Missouri village.

"We have voted unanimously to go back to the classrooms because we are sure the community will do something about this and that a situation such as this will not be necessary again," said Hercul Merchant, spokesman for the teachers.

Rudy Summers, school board member, said all but 16 of the 130 persons at the meeting backed the teachers. The school board also has supported the teachers.

Magistrate Frank Huffhines said three postponements of Arnold's trial were caused by illness of J. Allen Gibson, former Stone County prosecutor. The fourth was granted because Arnold had retained a Joplin lawyer, Robert P. Warden, who also is a state legislator. State law doesn't have to appear in court during a legislative session.

for a while were happy. Then we became restless and moved to California. Again we were happy till the newness wore off. My husband wouldn't work and began drinking. I turned to another man. Nothing happened but a few stolen kisses and embraces. I went home to my parents, my husband to his. Neither of us was to blame, both being so young—the 23, 17. Our divorce has been filed. When it becomes final, I plan to join the Women Marines. Last week my husband and I met by chance. He lit the fires of desire in me. Afterward we were both at ease and relaxed and talked as we had not been able to before.

We know now that we love each other but must determine whether our love is more than just physical desire. My husband thinks only time can tell. Should I first serve the four years in the Marines, then see how we feel?—Wondering.

Dear Wondering: It appears that neither you or your husband have matured. When he says, "Only time will tell," he is really asking for time to grow up. Certainly the fact that a chance encounter "lit the fires of desire," is not a sound basis for a renewal of married life. Whether it would take four years for both of you to grow up will depend on how each of you approach the problem. The first step is to try to understand

Dear Helen:

I am 16 and engaged to a boy

19. My family thinks the world of him but since I've only known him three months, my mother wants us to wait awhile before marrying.

Here's the problem: My fiancé thinks I should go all the way even if we aren't married. I disagree. What can I do?—Nervous Wreck.

Dear Nervous Wreck: Explain the situation to your mother and if you and this boy really love each other, marry now.

Can your boy friend support you? Are you prepared at 16 to exchange the light-hearted life of a young girl for the serious business of being a wife and mother? Ask yourself these questions before you make the final decision. Meanwhile, don't let your insistent boy friend cloud the issue by confusing sex with love and marriage. To Indict Pair in Vote Probe

HAZEN, Ark. (AP) - Deputy Sheriff H. L. Forrester has said he probably will serve warrants this week for two persons indicted in a recent Prairie County Grand Jury investigation of alleged voting irregularities.

Identities of the persons named in the indictment have not been disclosed pending filing of the warrants. Forrester said he had been ill and unable to serve them. He said he probably would serve them Tuesday or Wednesday.

The indictments grew out of the Aug. 9 Democratic primary in which incumbent Jerry Screeton of Hazen apparently won re-election of J. T. Gunter of Austin. Screeton was defeated by a write-in candidate, Charles George of Cabot, in the Nov. 8 general election.

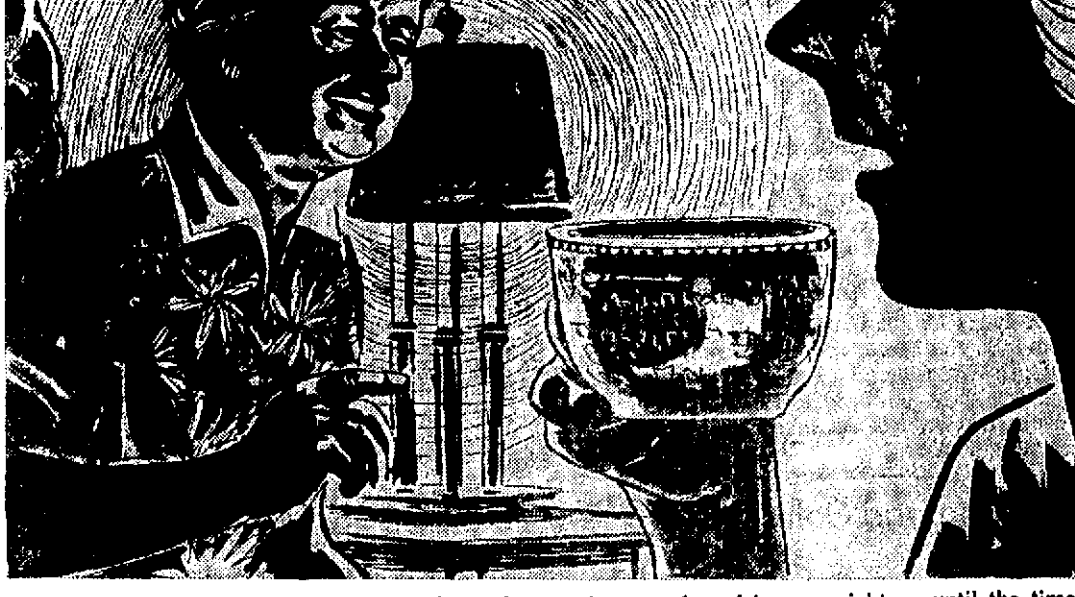

Even there in the muted lamp-light, the difference between the two women, though they were both in their early fifties, was striking. Mrs. Bates, being undeniably plump both in face and figure seemed somewhat older than Harriett Palmer, who had kept herself stylishly slim. Where Mrs. Bates had let her hair turn a natural steel gray, Harriett had rendered her own a sleek silver blonde. Mrs. Bates wore a loose-fitting house dress with a pattern of pale flowers; Harriett had on a pair of fitted black slacks and a white silk blouse. Mrs. Bates had just moved out west from Fort Madison, Iowa. Harriett Palmer had always been a native of Hollywood.

For all of their differences, though, the two women had gotten along famously from the first day of Mrs. Bates' arrival there on Hillside Terrace. Mrs. Bates, a widow of less than a year, had come to California to be away from all the familiar sights of home which had become only sad reminders of happier days before her husband's death. Harriett Palmer was married to a corpora-

"I never missed a Blanche Hudson picture. I was a fan of hers - right up until the time she had her accident."

"I don't give a hang what Father says. I'm in love with you, Meg. What are all the Standish millions next to an angel like you?"

He was a clean-cut young man with dark lustrous hair combed down close to his head. As he spoke, his companion, the blonde girl with the lovely sooty eyes looked up at him.

"But he'll cut you off without a penny. Oh, Jeff, you've never had to work for a living."

"I'll learn to work for you. Meg. I want to. You'll see - you will be proud of me."

The girl lifted her eyes to his and though they were moist, her face was placid. "But it isn't that simple. You were born to" - her gesture included the terrace, the mansion in the background, the fountains, the two glasses of half-tasted champagne on the balustrade - "to all this. Can you even guess what it's like, living in a cold-water flat?"

"It would be heaven - with you."

"The mansion and, finally, the lovers themselves faded from view. In their place there appeared a man with a strained smile and circles under his eyes

"Sorry to break in on this fine feature film, folks, but you'll be glad I did when you see what I have here for that favorite pouch of yours!"

The late, late movie announcer proceeded with the commercial.

Moving her comfortably expanded bulk forward in her easy chair, Mrs. Bates reached out and turned down the volume. Smiling softly with gentle reminiscence, she looked around at Harriett Palmer seated at the other side of the coffee table on the divan.

"Oh, I remember, when I first saw that picture I thought it was just grand. Claude took me - on a Sunday afternoon."

Even there in the muted lamp-light, the difference between the two women, though they were both in their early fifties, was striking. Mrs. Bates, being undeniably plump both in face and figure seemed somewhat older than Harriett Palmer, who had kept herself stylishly slim. Where Mrs. Bates had let her hair turn a natural steel gray, Harriett had rendered her own a sleek silver blonde. Mrs. Bates wore a loose-fitting house dress with a pattern of pale flowers; Harriett had on a pair of fitted black slacks and a white silk blouse. Mrs. Bates had just moved out west from Fort Madison, Iowa. Harriett Palmer had always been a native of Hollywood.

For all of their differences, though, the two women had gotten along famously from the first day of Mrs. Bates' arrival there on Hillside Terrace. Mrs. Bates, a widow of less than a year, had come to California to be away from all the familiar sights of home which had become only sad reminders of happier days before her husband's death. Harriett Palmer was married to a corporation lawyer who spent a great deal of time out of town. Both of them being somewhat at loose ends, they were grateful for each other's company.

"Have you ever seen her?" Mrs. Bates asked. "I mean, does she ever show herself outside the house?"

Harriett promptly shook her head. "Not that I know of. Oh, I've seen her from a distance - in the car, when they have to drive somewhere - but not so you could tell what she really looks like. I figure she must be at least 50 by now."

Pays That Bill After 30 Years

tapering hand to the collar of her light, rose-colored robe and held it there, palm outward, as if in a gesture of defense.

"Moonlight on Fifth Avenue" was the third old movie that Blanche had seen within the last month, and with each of them she had been left feeling, somehow, a bit more decimated. An invalid for more than 20 years now, loathing increasingly the helpless, wasted old woman she had become, she had begun to believe in the old legend of what she had once been on the screen. She had begun to believe in the glamour, the charm, the magic that was said to have once been hers. For a long, long time now she had managed to warm herself by this bright image, to hug it close to her where its radiance might reach the spreading chill inside.

Now she saw that it had been a mistake, watching the old movies.

Bobcats Take Pair From Magnolia

By Vince Foster
Hope Star Sports Writer

Hope easily took two conference games from Magnolia Saturday night before a large crowd of fans at Jones Field House. In the first game the Kittens came from behind and stole the district lead and the game 38-26. The Bobcats then evened up their district record with 2 wins and 2 losses by stomping the Panthers 37-28.

The Bobkittens suffered a cold first half and trailed 11-4 and 17-11 at the end of the first and second quarters. Then with a big third period, led by Dan Jones the Kittens took the lead 27-21, scoring 16 points to the visitors 4. With help from both teams the Kittens outscored the Cubs 11-5 in the final period. This win gives the Kittens a district record of 4 wins and no losses and 9 wins and 2 losses overall. The Cubs now have a 4-1 district record.

Dan Jones scored 15 points, Richard McDowell 8, Jerry Burnett got 6, Mack McLarty 4 and Buddy Sprague sank 3. Also scoring for the Kittens Saturday was Jack Caldwell with a couple of free throws.

In the senior game, the visitors started out in a stall and the Cats began with a press. As the score indicates, the press worked, but the stall proved useless against the Cats. The Cats led 6-1 in the first period. The second quarter had plenty of scoring with the Bobcats taking 26 points to the Panthers 10.

Not only did the scoring threat of Hope guards Larry Arnett and Glen Calhoun hamper Magnolia, but also the fact that they fouled 20 times to Hope's 11 and the Cats sank 15 of 27 free throws to the visitors' 2 out of 11.

The third quarter was pretty even with both teams scoring 9 points. But then in the final period Hope was hot as they scored 20 points to the Panthers' 3. Once during this quarter Glen Calhoun playing his best game of the year, hit 4 straight field goals on steals, for 8 points before the Panthers could get the ball down court.

Calhoun was high for the Cats with 20, Arnett dropped in 13. Other Cats scoring were Robinson and Fry with 9 each, Churchwell with 3, Powell with 2, and Roberts with 1.

Rosburg Is Winner of Crosby Meet

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

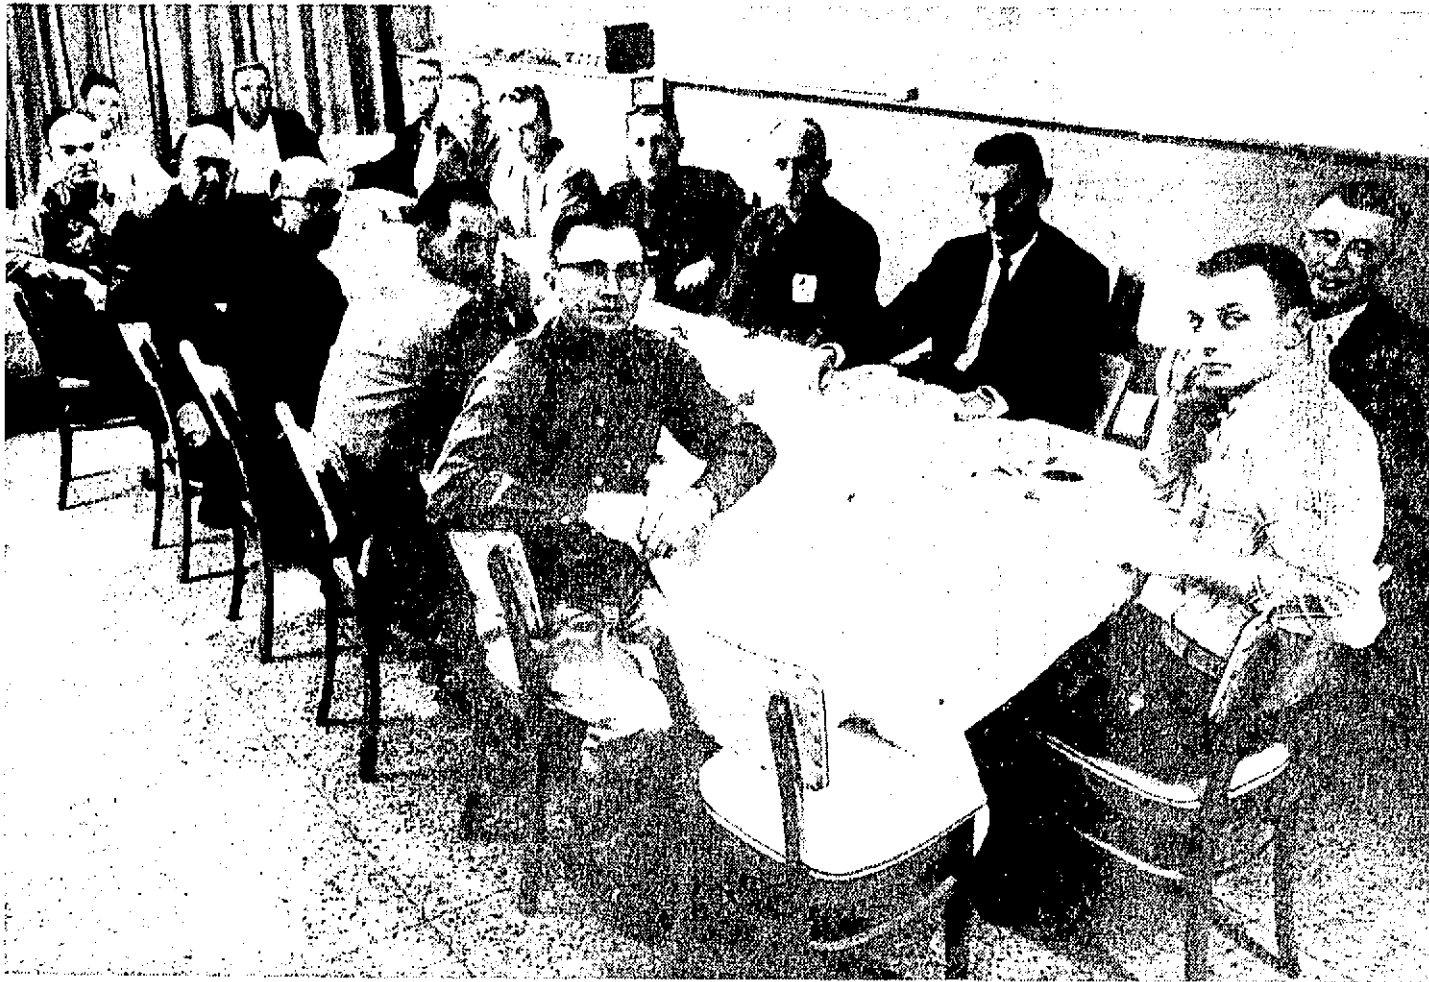

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Bob Rosburg's long experience with the Pebble Beach course plus a great pressure put on the final hole brought him the $5,300 first annual golf tournament.

"I knew I had to make it," Rosburg said of the 14-foot slightly hooking putt he sank for a birdie four on the final hole Sunday for an even-par 72 and a winning 282 for the 72 holes.

Still the ex-Stanford star who won the PGA tournament in 1959 for his last major victory had to wait a half hour to see if Bill Collins was going to beat him. Collins, of Baltimore, needed even par for the final two holes to tie and a birdie on one to win.

Collins went one-over-par on the 17th when his tee shot was trapped on the 218-yard, par three hole. He still could have tied with a birdie four on the 18th and his third shot stopped about 15 feet from the cup. Bill promptly missed two putts, the second from two feet, and took a six. Collins got only $1,625 for a tie for fourth. His 75 gave him a 284.

Nashville Boys Take Saratoga Tournament

Deadlocked for second, one stroke off the pace at 283, were Roberto de Vicenzo of Mexico City and Dave Ragan of Orlando, Fla. De Vicenzo shot a 75 final round and Ragan a 74.

Rosburg, 34, a resident of Palo Alto, Calif., who plays out of Overland Park, Kans., needed to make up seven strokes to catch the third-round leader Ted Kroll of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., who had a 203 through 54 holes. Ted blew up with an 81 and a 284.

For a time it appeared Arnold Palmer, golfer-of-the-year in 1960 would take it all here. But a 41 on the final nine and 75 total left him at 284 with Kroll and Gardner Dickinson who was one of three sub-par shooters here Sunday with a one-under 71. Johnny Pott also eclipsed par by a stroke for a 285 total.

Porks to Red Shirt Coffman

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Razorback Coach Glen Rose has said he will redshirt junior guard Skippy Coffman of Little Rock even if Coffman passes all his work and is eligible for conference play the second semester.

Coffman, a fleet-footed 6-foot defensive expert, was to become eligible next if his mid-semester grades were satisfactory.

But Rose said he would save Coffman for 1962 and 1963. He played as a sophomore last year and would be a junior in eligibility next year.

"We have to think about next year when Jerry Carlton will be gone," Rose said. He added that he didn't think Coffman could make a big difference on this year's team.

Bradley Wins Girls Division

The Razorbacks have a 2-2 Southwest Conference record and are tied for fourth place in the league standings.

Buckeyes Will Be Challenged by Purdue

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The folks in the midlands who say Terry Dischinger is as good as Olympic teammate Jerry Lucas and that Ohio State is far from invincible get a chance to test their theory this week as college basketball begins to bust out of its mid-term doldrums.

Dischinger, probably destined to end his college career in Lucas' shadow, has a head-to-head meeting with the big Buckeye All-American on Saturday afternoon when Purdue and top-ranked Ohio State collide at Columbus, Ohio, for the Big Ten lead.

The 6-6 Dischinger, shrugging off a badly cut finger suffered in a chemistry lab accident, scored 19 points as Purdue (9-3) bounced fourth-ranked Iowa off a 10-game winning streak and out of the Big Ten lead with a 47-41 thrashing last Saturday night. Talented Terry is expected to be fully recovered by the time the Boilermakers get at the Buckeyes, their top national ranking, and their nation-leading 18-game winning streak.

Purdue first has a conference test at much-beaten Northwestern tonight, but this one doesn't figure to be much more than a warm-up for the big Saturday game.

If it's a slow-down Coach Ray Eddy has in mind, he may find Ohio State less inclined to control than the Hawkeyes were over the weekend.

Minnesota Coach John Kundla tried it against Ohio State and it befuddled the Bucks only for 5 minutes. Behind 8-1 at the time, the defending NCAA champions switched into an aggressive, ball-hawking defense, reeled off eight straight points and went on to a 75-56 victory with Lucas scoring 22 points and his starting mates all hitting in double figures.

The Purdue-Ohio State showdown is the feature game on a big program Saturday as basketball swings back into full-time activity.

It'll likely be a vastly shuffled top 10 in the AP poll next week. Although Ohio State, second-ranked St. Bonaventure, and sixth-ranked North Carolina went unbeaten through last week, and three others — Bradley, Duke and St. John's — were idle, the top 10 combined had only a 6-5 won-lost record.

Iowa, before losing to Purdue, had defeated Illinois. Fifth-ranked Louisville split a pair during the week—losing to Xavier of Ohio 84-77 before bouncing back to top Dayton 63-50 in the national TV game Saturday. Seventh-ranked DePaul, unbeaten a week ago, lost twice—to Notre Dame and Western Michigan. Tenth-ranked Kansas State also lost its only start—to Kansas.

Longhorns in Command of Conference

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The mid semester truce continues this week in the Southwest Conference basketball battle in which the Texas Longhorns hold undisputed command.

The Longhorns broke a three way tie last week when they trounced the Texas Aggies and took over the top spot with a 4-1 mark. Texas Tech is second with 3-1 while the Aggies' 3-2 loop record set them back in third place.

Conference play won't be resumed until next week but three teams will mix final examinations and games with outside foes this weekend.

Thursday night Arkansas plays Tulsa at Fayetteville while Friday Southern Methodist University is host to Oklahoma City in Dallas. Saturday night Texas Tech plays Phillips 66 at Lubbock.

Arkansas, Rice and Southern Methodist are knotted up in fourth place in the conference race. Each has broken even so far for 2-2 records. Texas Christian follows with a 1-3 mark while bringing up the rear are the Baylor Bears who haven't yet hit paydirt. The Bears have an unpretentious 0-4 record in conference play.

Despite two losses last week—to Texas and to Houston in a non-conference tilt—the Aggies boast the loop's high scorer in Carroll Broussard who has amassed 321 points this season.

He is followed by Steve Strange of SMU with 279 and Del Ray Mounts of Texas Tech who had 268.

President to Review Master Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and his new administration's top defense and diplomatic officials today started a far-reaching review of the national security program.

Seeking a safeguarded peace with the Communist bloc, Kennedy began talks with key aides at midmorning and arranged to resume the discussions after a recess for lunch.

Sitting in with the President at the conference in the Cabinet room at the White House were Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Also on hand were: McGeorge Bundy, Kennedy's personal aide on national security matters; Under Secretary of State-to-be Chester Bowles; and Paul Nitze, assistant secretary of state in charge of international affairs, including disarmament planning.

Also present was Gen Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said several other officials were joining in the discussions. He did not immediately name them.

The double conference—the only announced business on his agenda today—demonstrated the priority Kennedy attaches to seeking an easing of East-West tension while beefing up the nation's defenses.

A grim reminder of troubles ahead reportedly came in a secret message from Ambassador Lewellyn E. Thompson who met Saturday in Moscow with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Thompson's cable was understood to report that Khrushchev, while talking hopefully of an agreement with the Kennedy administration—in private had adopted the same tough, unyielding position on issues that wrecked

Doradoans. The defending champion is Mrs. Ann Cookin of Arkadelphia.

Pistons and Nationals Are Hot Now

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The two hottest clubs in the National Basketball Association today are the Detroit Pistons and the Syracuse Nationals—but both are rushing along on a treadmill.

Each has won five games in a row, yet the Pistons remain 8½ games behind the St. Louis Hawks in the Western Division and the Nats still are third in the Eastern Division, 10 games back of the first place Boston Celtics and 2½ behind the Philadelphia Warriors.

The Pistons cut down the Warriors, 136-128, Sunday and the Nats turned back the Los Angeles Lakers, 112-109. In the other game, the Cincinnati Royals downed the Hawks, 115-108.

Gene Shue had 32 points for the Pistons and Bailey Howell chipped in with 31. Just as important in the triumph was the fact that the Pistons held Wilt Chamberlain to 28 points.

The triumph was the Pistons seventh in their last eight starts. The Nats trailed the Lakers for three periods and couldn't pull into a tie at 89-all until midway in the fourth period. The lead saw-sawed back and fourth until the Lakers went ahead, 109-108 with less than a minute to go.

But then Dick Barnett went to work and plunked in two baskets for the Nats before time ran out. The triumph was the Nats seventh in their last eight games.

The Royals proved finally that they can win without Oscar Robertson. Until Sunday they hadn't won a game all season without the Big O.

Wayne Embry and Jack Twyman supplied most of the Royals' punch in their last finish in the nationally televised game. Embry finished with 28 points and 18 rebounds, while Twyman dropped in 14 points in the final quarter.

Saturday, Detroit whipped Cincinnati, 130-106; Syracuse turned back Boston, 127-124; St. Louis clipped New York, 145-122, and Philadelphia vanquished Los Angeles, 136-111.

previous Western hopes.

Kennedy got a preview during a White House luncheon Sunday of Rusk's thinking about Khrushchev's maneuvers. Undersecretary of State-designate Chester Bowles also attended.

Kennedy, moving about in the unpredictable fashion that has become almost routine since inauguration, popped into the press room for a surprise visit.

He was accompanied by his wife, Jacqueline, looking like a fashionable teen-ager, as she strolled through the White House lobby, wearing beige riding pants and a three-quarter length sports coat.

White House guards, who never had seen anything like it during the Eisenhower administration, stared goggle-eyed.

After going to church Sunday, Kennedy kept up a rapid-fire work pace. By late afternoon, he named an undersecretary of the Navy, two assistant secretaries of commerce, and a three-man panel to advise him on conflict of interest problems and ethics in government.

He picked Paul Fay Jr., 42, an independent Republican businessman from San Francisco, to be Navy undersecretary. Fay, who helped campaign for him, was in Kennedy's wartime torpedo boat squadron.

As assistant commerce secretaries, he chose Hickman Price Jr., Detroit, director of the Mercedes-Benz automobile branch in Brazil, and Rowland Burnstam, a Chicagoan, president of B.G. Warner International Corp.

Members of the study panel will be Prof. Bayless A. Manning of Yale Law School, Jefferson Fordham, dean of the University of Pennsylvania's Law School, and Judge Calvert McGrunder formerly chief judge of the 1st Circuit Court of Appeals, panel chairman.
